TRAVEL WITH PURPOSE

As the world returns to travel, doing so sustainably and responsibly has never been more important. With growing impacts from climate change and rising demand for more sustainable hospitality options, Hilton is evolving its environmental, social and governance (ESG) commitments to help preserve the destinations where it operates and create inclusive growth in communities around the world.

Hilton launched its 2030 goals four years ago as part of its ambitious ESG strategy, “Travel with Purpose,” making it the first global hospitality company to set science-based climate targets. Now, after a strategic review of those goals, evolving climate science and best practices, Hilton has updated its environmental and social impact goals.

Hilton’s strengthened greenhouse gas emissions goals – which aim to cut emissions intensity by 75% in its managed hotels and emissions intensity by 56%, by 2030 in franchised – have been validated by the Science Based Targets initiative (SBTi), a global body enabling businesses to set ambitious emissions reductions targets in line with the latest climate science.
