Design & Architecture

Easily recognizable from afar by the architectural spin on the top floors, the optical separation of the upper floors by slightly rotating the floor plans, gives the hotel its unmistakable character and name.

The building design comes from the pen of the international German architect Hadi Teherani. While the leader of contemporary architecture Rafael de la-Hoz studio has taken care of all details of the interior design to welcome guests from all over the world.

The striking 128 m high skyscraper houses the newest NH Collection in Frankfurt all the way up to the 20th floor at a height of 80 m, becoming a city landmark. A double façade with integrated sun protection is also a remarkable feature.

The cavity between the two panes acts as thermal insulation, reducing energy costs and increasing the sustainability of the building. In the hotel lobby, 10-metre-high windows flood the entire interior with light while a big staircase reaches up to the 2nd floor offering seating possibilities to work individually or collectively in a relaxed environment.

All needs are covered in the multi-functional corners (lounge, fireplace, open bar areas, etc.) that create different atmospheres and make the hotel the perfect meeting point any time of the day or night.
