Meetings & Events

Hotel Arsenaal is an icon of Delft and an essential part of the cityscape. The literally picturesque and 'Vermerian' complex has a high (cultural) historic value. For good reason, it is registered as a national monument. Throughout the centuries the building has had many destinations, occupants and visitors. Hotel Arsenaal is a perfect repository of rich history and because of this the building has nourishing soil for the growth of future plans. The place of choice for meetings! Information on setups and capacity can be found on the last page.

'For good reason, it is registered as a national monument.'

Culinary delights at a historic place

Welcome to Gastrobar de Wapenkamer in the historic Hotel Arsenaal. This is how we wrote in the early 1600s. hotel Arsenaal houses many canons, firearms, bullets and other weaponry. Not only did the building serve as an armory, but also goods such as spices, cotton, coffee, tea and Chinese porcelain. An armory of value you might say! A place where you can enjoy a good wine in combination with luxury snacks and with a nod to the history.

Taste the atmosphere

It is precisely this value that we have reflected today in our Gastrobar. Enjoy exciting gin tonics which we flavor with spices from the Easy. Unwind by our robust fireplace and order one of our own barista coffees and feel the mercantile spirit as you take in the spices from the kitchen!
