

NH Collection Venezia Grand Hotel Palazzo Dei Dogi

Venice and its hidden beauty

In the Cannaregio district, in a wonderfully romantic corner of Venice, was born the NH Collection Venezia Grand Hotel Palazzo Dei Dogi, winner of the prestigious Condè Nast Traveler Readers' Choice Awards 2020 within the top ten of the best hotels in Venice. Housed inside the ancient Palazzo Rizzo Patarol with an architectural structure typical of the Venetian palaces, it was commissioned by the Patarol family at the end of the 16th century and inherited by the noble family Rizzo, extinct in 1833.

Over the course of the years the palace hosted, besides a suggestive monastery, the seat of the embassies of France and Savoy. A careful restoration work has enhanced the historical importance of the palace, exalting, in particular, its art collections: antique frescoes, sculptures and valuable paintings which create the setting for a unique stay.

Finally, between the lagoon, palaces and canals, the hotel hides an ancient secret garden behind the beauty of its decorations, brocades, inlays, polychrome marbles and fine Venetian stuccoes, a unique element that offers guests the chance to live an extraordinary experience in Venice.

Feel the Place

The over 2000 square metres of private gardens represent a true rarity in a city dominated by water. Lorenzo Patarol, a famed botanic and naturalistic science lover, created between 1717 and 1719 this sensational botanic garden inside the only cultivable area of the city at that time: the Fondamenta Madonna dell'Orto. Francesco Rizzo Patarol, however, conferred the Palace's gardens a mystical aspect, with artificial hills, caves, bridges, ruins and neo-Gothic turrets. This was the garden the eyes of Emperor Francis I admired in 1815. The romantic look this corner of paradise still preserves nowadays was only conferred after 1833, probably under a project by Giuseppe Jappelli commissioned by Giovanni Correr, "Podestà" of Venice and owner of the Palace. A spectacular garden, the perfect place to relax and organize a social event surrounded by the beauty of nature, that is still able to surprise guests with its stunning overlooking of the lagoon. It is possible to visit the garden with an expert from the Wigwam Club association, active in the protection of local secret gardens, to see the rare botanical collections of roses, Clematis, Hydrangea and Bulbous. Lastly, from the garden of the NH Collection Venezia Grand Hotel Palazzo Dei Dogi, it is possible to access a small pier from where to admire the island of Murano, the cradle of the art of glass blowing.

Enjoy an unforgettable stay

Its 64 rooms with a perfect combination of elegance and classicism, high ceilings, finely crafted chandeliers by Murano glass masters, Carrara marble bathrooms and bright colours, make this boutique hotel a unique place, inspired by the typical Venetian architecture.

From the splendid view of the Rio to the more intimate glimpse the private garden can give, guests can choose among different types of rooms, all inspired by the spirit of Venice and equipped with the most modern comforts and free Wi-Fi. For the most romantic guests, it will be impossible not to admire the sunrise over the lagoon from the Presidential Suite, with windows on three sides and a garden of centuries-old trees right outside.
